

The Department of Humanities and Theology at TU Dortmund University offers the following position (starting at the earliest opportunity):

Professorship (W3) Protestant Theology with a focus on Systematic Theology

Our profile

TU Dortmund University comprising 17 departments in the natural and engineering sciences as well as the humanities and social sciences is a dynamic university with a strong profile in research, teaching, promotion of young scientists and transfer.

The Department of Humanities and Theology includes the Institutes of Protestant Theology and Catholic Theology as well as a joint Institute of Philosophy and Political Science. The Institute of Protestant Theology offers teacher training programs for Protestant religious education in all types of schools. The Department has an interdisciplinary focus on teaching and research in the field of "Religion and Politics" with special emphasis on philosophical references.

Profile of the professorship

You represent the field of Systematic Theology (Dogmatics and Ethics) in research and further develop this with international visibility. In doing so, you participate in research networks and cooperations within and outside TU Dortmund University and are committed to promoting early career researchers. In teaching, you are responsible for the subject Protestant Theology with a focus on Systematic Theology and participate appropriately in the teaching activities of the department, a. o. in the English-speaking interdisciplinary Master's program in religion, ethics and politics ("MAREPOL"); practical school experience is an asset.

Your qualifications

You have obtained a doctorate with above-average success and have acquired a post-doctoral lecture qualification (Habilitation) or an equivalent qualification. You have demonstrated your research reputation in the field of the professorship through continuous national and international publications in recognized peer-reviewed venues and have successfully and independently acquired third-party funding. Participation in international research networks is expected. Additionally, you have the potential for teaching excellence. Social and leadership skills and the willingness to participate in academic self-administration complete your profile. Moreover, the recruitment requirements of Sections 36 and 37 of the North Rhine-Westphalia Higher Education Act (Gesetz über die Hochschulen des Landes Nordrhein-Westfalen, HG) apply.

Attractive environment

We offer an excellent scientific environment and attractive cooperation opportunities with renowned international, national, and regional partners. The metropolitan Ruhr Area with the University Alliance Ruhr (UA Ruhr) guarantees short distances to a diversity of partners from science and industry. With our Dual Career Service, we accompany your partner in the professional orientation in the region if desired. We will be happy to provide information about housing and living in Dortmund and help you find childcare options. If you are coming to us from abroad, our Welcome Service will support you upon your arrival in Germany.

Diversity welcome

A central goal of TU Dortmund University is to promote diversity and equal opportunities. We strive to significantly increase the percentage of women in research and teaching and therefore welcome applications from female academics. We give preference to severely disabled applicants if their qualifications meet the requirements. We support the compatibility of family and career and promote gender equality in science.

Your application

If you are interested in the position, please send your application via e-mail by DD.MM.YYYY (4 weeks after the date of publication of the job advertisement) to: christoph.m.schuck@tu-dortmund.de

Details on the application process and the preparation of application documents can be found here: <https://berufung.tu-dortmund.de/en/application>

Questions will be answered by the Dean of the Department of Humanities and Theology, University Professor Dr. Christoph Schuck Tel: +49 231 755-6252 or christoph.m.schuck@tu-dortmund.de

Further information about the Department of Humanities and Theology can be found at www.ht.tu-dortmund.de.