

With 6,200 employees in research, teaching and administration and its unique profile, TU Dortmund University shapes prospects for the future. The interaction between engineering and natural science as well as social and cultural studies drives both technological innovations and progress in knowledge and methodology. It is not only the roughly 34,600 students who benefit from this.

The Faculty of Arts and Sports Sciences at TU Dortmund University is seeking to fill the position of a

Professor (W1) with W3 tenure track in “Sport Pedagogy”

The successful candidate will specialize in research and teaching in the field of “Sport Pedagogy”.

TU Dortmund University is seeking an individual with an excellent reputation gained by an outstanding doctorate and a publication record in the field of Sport Pedagogy. A research focus on empirical research in the field of sports in and outside of school is required. An affinity with the sociology of sport would be welcome.

Experience in raising third-party funding is desirable.

Candidates must be willing to cooperate in research alliances and collaborations within TU Dortmund University and beyond – particularly at the Dortmund Center for School Sports Research. Willingness to take part in cross-disciplinary research collaborations is expected.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching classes in Sport Pedagogy and Sociology of Sports within the Faculty’s BSc and MSc study programs in German language. Participation in the further development of teacher education programs is requested.

Applicants will possess the requisite social and leadership skills and be willing to be involved in academic self-governance.

The recruitment requirements are based on § 36 and § 37 HG NRW (law governing universities in NRW). The appointment is initially for three years as a temporary civil servant.

In the course of the third year, this status will be reviewed and may be extended for a further three years depending on performance. At the end of this six-year professorship, the tenure track will lead to continued employment as a tenured W3 university professor, provided that the necessary aptitude, competence and academic performance have been demonstrated and that the legal requirements pertaining to § 38 HG NRW are met.

TU Dortmund University strives to increase the number of women in academic research and therefore encourages women to apply.

Equally qualified candidates with disabilities will be given preference.

TU Dortmund University supports the compatibility of family and work and promotes gender equality in the university community.
